Chili Competition Rules

Chili must be prepared from scratch in a safe and sanitary manor.

All Chefs shall conduct themselves in the spirit of good sportsmanship and respect others and their chili's. Those that do not will be excluded from the competition.

All chefs shall bring a minimum of 1 Gallon (4 quarts) of chili for competition. 2 Gallons are recommended. Samples will be given out in 3oz portions.

WARNING if you run out of Chili you may lose out on valuable votes.

All voting will be done by people's choice – there will be no designated judges for the competition.

Judging will start at 7:00 PM the day of the event. And end at 8:30 PM.

The 2 categories of Chili are defined as –

Homestyle Meat – Chili with Meat, additives such as beans and corn are allowed.

Vegetarian – Chili with no meat or fish

Entries into multiple categories will be allowed if multiple entry fees are paid.

Chili must be hot when it arrives; chefs are responsible for keeping their chili hot (chafing dish or crockpot) during the competition.
